

Fund Objective

The Rock Capital IP Top 20 Global Fund is a moderate to high risk, flexible fund. The objective of this portfolio is to achieve capital appreciation over the medium to long term.

Fund Universe

Investments to be included in the ROCK CAPITAL IP TOP 20 GLOBAL FUND will, apart from assets in liquid form, consist of securities and financial instruments across the equity, fixed interest and property markets. The portfolio will typically be highly exposed to equities but the Portfolio Manager will have complete flexibility to vary the exposure to different asset classes as economic conditions vary. The portfolio will typically not hold more than 20 securities at any time.

Manager Commentary

June 2019 has been a month of two halves. The first half saw the local markets rise sharply after May's contraction, but we were unable to breakthrough the previous high of 53,200 set back in April and the latter half of June has seen the ALSI slowly drift downwards. A lot of the ALSI's movement over the last month can be explained by Naspers (through its biggest shareholding i.e. Tencent) and how it was impacted by the trade negotiations between China and the Trump administration.

The election cycle has now passed, and the market has reacted favourably now that a lot of uncertainty has dissipated. That being said, many SA Inc companies have been unfairly beaten down and are currently trading at significant historical discounts. For this reason, we remain confident in our approach of overweighting defensive, low beta and non-cyclical blue-chip stocks whilst holding a significant portion in cash, ready to deploy should the opportunity arise.

Volatility is a statistical measure of the dispersion of returns for a given security or market index.

Tracking error is a measure of the risk in an investment portfolio that is due to active management decisions made by the portfolio manager; it indicates how closely a portfolio follows the index to which it is benchmarked.

Information ratio is a measure of the risk-adjusted return of a portfolio. In this case, it measures the active return of the manager's portfolio divided by the amount of risk that the manager takes relative to the benchmark.

Sharpe Ratio is a measure for calculating risk-adjusted return. It is the average return earned in excess of the risk-free rate per unit of total risk. The greater a portfolio's Sharpe ratio, the better its risk-adjusted performance has been (i.e. a higher return with a contained risk profile, where the portfolio manager is not taking excessive risk to achieve those returns).

Beta is a measure of the volatility, or systematic risk, of a security or a portfolio in comparison to the market as a whole.

Alpha is a measure of the active return on an investment. It represents the excess returns of a fund relative to the return of a suitable benchmark.

Transaction costs (TC) relate to the buying and selling of the assets underlying the financial product. Total Investment Charge (TIC) is the value of the financial product incurred as costs relating to the investment of the financial product. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TER's. Transaction Costs are a necessary cost in administering the financial product and impacts the financial product returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time such as market returns, the type of financial product, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.
